Being a Volunteer Missionary is about making a total commitment to both his or her spiritual and personal growth and that of Saint John Society programs. Missionaries must invest their lives into their service. We ask that missionaries make a 10 month commitment to Saint John Society and be willing to serve in whatever capacity Saint John Society asks of them.

We also ask our missionaries to take an Oath of Fidelity to the Catholic Church, indicating their desire and intention to always speak and teach in accord with what the Church proclaims. In order to be effectively prepared for mission work, all missionaries must attend volunteer missionary training and dedicate themselves to their personal support raising efforts.
